

Dear Sergey!

As a follow-up to our communication, we are sending you a job offer for a Product Manager position in our company with a description of the main responsibilities and expectations.

Expected start date: between November 10 and November 17, 2025.

Office location: 53–55 Agios Athanasios street, Michelangelo House, 4102, Limassol, Cyprus.

Responsibilities and goals:

You will handle the following tasks:

- Develop and communicate a clear product vision and strategy that aligns with the company's goals and objectives.
- Conduct market research and competitive analysis to understand customer needs, market trends, and potential opportunities.
- Create and maintain a product roadmap that outlines the planned features and improvements over time, prioritizing initiatives based on business value and customer impact.
- Collaborate with internal and external stakeholders, including customers, sales, marketing, engineering, and executives, to gather requirements and feedback, ensuring alignment on product goals.
- Define and prioritize features and user stories, creating detailed product specifications and acceptance criteria for the development team.
- Collect and analyze customer feedback and usage data to continuously improve the product, making data-driven decisions to iterate and enhance the user experience.
- Oversee or the entire product lifecycle, from ideation and development to launch, maintenance, and eventual retirement.
- Develop and execute go-to-market plans, including product positioning and promotional strategies, working closely with marketing and sales teams.
- Define and track key performance indicators (KPIs or Metrics) to measure product success, providing regular updates and reports to stakeholders on progress and outcomes.

We expect that during the first three months, you will:

- Explore current product technologies and approaches to understand their strengths, limitations, and applications.
- Take on several tasks from the current pipeline and/or backlog and achieve significant progress in their realization.
- Create a product roadmap that outlines the planned features and improvements over time.

Working conditions

Manager: Evgenii Shabanov, Head of Product.

Working hours: 40-hour week, office hours from 09:00 to 18:00, with a one-hour lunch break. Start and end times may vary (+/- 2 hours). Mandatory availability hours are set from 12:00 to 17:00, Cyprus time.

Remote work from Cyprus is permitted, but you are required to be readily available for communication during the designated working hours.

Weekly video conferences may be scheduled to address work-related matters. Additionally, we may arrange in-person meetings at the office for networking and corporate events.

The monthly income will be 6800 euros before taxes.

We also offer:

- Corporate health insurance.
- All the necessary hardware.
- Complementary lunches and snacks at our office.

Employees are provided with vacation - 21 working days per year. The maximum duration of vacation per month is two weeks. The interval between parts of vacation is a two-week minimum.

Relocation support

To enter Cyprus, you will need a valid Schengen multi-visa or Cypriot national visa. We will provide you with limited support in obtaining a tourist visa to Cyprus, help you to collect the necessary documents for the visa application and reimburse visa fees.

We will pay for the flight from Russia to Cyprus, including luggage, in economy class for you and your spouse and reimburse the pet transportation expenses if needed.

We will arrange airport transfer and temporary accommodation in the apartment for the first two weeks until you find a permanent apartment.

Work visa

The company will handle the work visa for you. We will also provide support in obtaining a residence permit for you. Please note that we do not provide visa support for parents and other relatives, except for spouses and children.

Documents you need to prepare for employment:

- a passport that is valid for at least two more years;
- criminal record certificate along with a notarized English translation (an electronic version from Gosuslugi portal is acceptable);
- higher or secondary education diploma along with a notarized English translation;
- certificate of marriage along with a notarized English translation;
- CV in English.

Actions upon arrival in Cyprus

During the first two weeks you will need to find a rented apartment. The one-year rental agreement is a mandatory document for all further employment steps.

We will arrange the medical tests needed for your visa application. The required tests will be performed by a certified doctor in Cyprus and will include a blood test for AIDS, syphilis, hepatitis B and hepatitis C, and a fluoroscopy.

After that, we will be able to prepare a health insurance policy for you, open a local bank account, and register with the necessary government authorities.

We will organize the fingerprinting procedure for you, fill out the forms and submit the visa application to the Department of Immigration.

The Cyprus Immigration Office may work unstable at the moment, so it might take from one and a half to two months to get a work visa. When applying for a visa, you will receive documents allowing you to stay and work legally on the island until you receive a physical visa card, travel outside the island and return.

Please contact us if you have any questions regarding our offer, relocating or living in Cyprus.

We look forward to your response by Wednesday next week and hope you will accept our offer.
